

COVID-19: Workers' Compensation, TDI and Prepaid Healthcare Q&As

COVID-19 QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

The below are questions and answers for workers' compensation (WC), temporary disability insurance (TDI), and Prepaid Health Care (healthcare) scenarios due to coronavirus (COVID-19). The DLIR will do all that we can to ensure that impacted Hawaii employees receive the benefits for which they are eligible for.

All answers will depend on your employer's insurance policy and/or your bargaining unit contract, if applicable.

1. Can I receive WC benefits if I contract COVID-19 at work?

- WC benefits may be awarded if you contracted COVID-19 either by accident arising out of and in the course of your employment or it is the result of the nature of your employment.

2. How do I file for WC benefits?

- Please notify your employer, who will then contact their insurance carrier.
- If your employer doesn't file a WC claim, you may file a WC-5 form, which may be found at www.labor.hawaii.gov/dcd/files/2012/11/WC-5.pdf.
- For assistance in filing, contact (808) 586-9161.

3. Can I receive WC benefits and unemployment benefits at the same time?

- It depends on the type of WC benefits that you are receiving. If you are receiving WC benefits because you are unable and unavailable to work, you are not eligible to receive unemployment benefits.

4. Can I receive TDI benefits if I contract or self-quarantine for COVID-19?

- To be eligible for TDI, you need to have worked for covered Hawaii employer(s) for a minimum of 20 hours for 14 weeks within the 52 weeks before the first day of disability.
- If you contract COVID-19, it cannot be due to a work-related injury. You also cannot be receiving unemployment insurance or some types of WC benefits.

5. How do I file for TDI benefits?

- Request a claim form from your employer & provide the completed form to your employer's TDI insurer.
- If you cannot get a claim form, please contact (808) 586-9188 for help.

6. Will I continue to receive my healthcare benefits if I am laid off?

- It depends on your eligibility and employer's policy. Please contact your employer for more information.

7. If I am hospitalized or unable to work due to being ill with COVID-19, will my employer continue to pay my healthcare premiums?

- The law provides that an employer shall continue to cover the employer's portion of the premiums for up to a period of three months following the month during which the employee became hospitalized or disabled from working due to sickness.
- After the three months, Hawaii law does not require the employer to provide healthcare, but other laws may allow the employee to continue healthcare. Contact your employer for options.
