Employer Responsibilities

Per Chapters 12-60-2(b)(2) and 12-110-2(b)(2), HAR, employers in the State of Hawaii are required to provide safe and healthful working conditions for their employees. In regards to the COVID-19 pandemic, this may include conducting a Job Hazard Assessment (JHA) per 29 CFR 1910.132(d)(1); providing and requiring the use of appropriate personal protective equipment (PPE); sanitization (personal and work environment); practicing social distancing; crowd control; utilizing physical barriers; requiring customers to wear face coverings; utilizing other engineering, administrative, and work practice controls; etc.

Employer Assistance

The HIOSH Consultation & Training Branch offers free and confidential occupational safety and health services to businesses in Hawaii. Our consultation services are separate from enforcement and do not result in penalties or citations. Our Consultants work with employers to identify workplace hazards, provide advice for compliance with OSHA/HIOSH standards, and assist in establishing and improving safety and health programs.

If you have questions or need assistance regarding COVID-19 and the workplace or occupational safety and health, please contact the HIOSH Consultation & Training Branch at (808) 586-9100 or dliir.hiosh.CT@hawaii.gov.
