DUTIES SUMMARY

Labor Law Enforcement Specialist V : Work at this level generally reflects the following types:

A. Supervises a staff of lower level enforcement specialists engaged in conducting predominantly highly complex labor law compliance investigations. Duties and responsibilities include planning and coordinating program investigation and compliance activities; assigning and scheduling work; exercising control over the quantity and quality of work performed; providing guidance and assistance to subordinates; evaluating performance of work; planning and directing the training of specialists; and performing related duties. Work is performed under general direction of a higher level specialist.

B. Program specialist work in the program's staff office which involves responsibility for program development and evaluation for a major segment of the labor law administration and enforcement program. This includes developing program plans, policies, procedures, goals, and objectives; recommending policy changes and evaluating program effectiveness, assisting with program budget development, coordination and preparation; developing and drafting new and amended legislative and administrative rule changes; developing staff training programs; providing technical assistance and advice to program personnel; and developing and maintaining various program information management systems. Work is performed independently under general supervision and guidance of a higher level program specialist.

C. Serves as a working supervisor responsible for overseeing hearing activities and conducting administrative hearings on complex to highly complex complaint cases and appeals on notifications of violation issued to employers. The work involves planning, directing and coordinating hearings and pre-hearing conferences; recommending revisions to operating methods and guidelines; preparing budget recommendations; supervising and training lower level enforcement specialists conducting hearings; and conducting administrative hearings.

Labor Law Enforcement Specialist IV: Work at this level generally reflects the following types:

A. Independently conducts investigations of business establishments for compliance with State labor laws and rules administered by the program. Duties and responsibilities involve planning, scheduling, conducting and completing investigations of predominantly highly complex difficulty. Assignments generally involve large corporations with complex organizational structures and a large number and variety of occupational types (e.g., hotels, hospitals, large private schools, and car dealers); and highly complex cases with conflicting or contradictory information, uncooperative parties, and unprecedented issues. The work may also include responsibility for reviewing case reports of other specialists, participating in training lower level enforcement specialists, and recommending changes in policies, procedures, laws and rules administered by the program.

B. Independently performs the full range of investigations, intake, education and certification activities for a district. The work involves the full range of State labor laws and regularly includes highly difficult and complex cases. Technical supervision is provided by a higher level specialist physically located on another island and not readily available for consultation. There is continuing responsibility for all services usually provided by labor law enforcement specialists, including responsibility for representing the program in the district and conducting public education programs and voluntary compliance efforts. Duties and responsibilities may also include training lower level labor law enforcement specialists.

C. Serves as a working supervisor in performing investigations, intake, education and certification services. This involves planning and coordinating the program activities, providing input on budgetary and legislative matters, recommending revisions to operating methods and guidelines, and supervising and training lower level enforcement specialists providing intake, educational and certification services. Work is performed independently within general procedural and administrative guidelines, and final decisions are reviewed by the administrator of the labor law enforcement program for conformance with legal and policy guidelines.

D. Independently conducts administrative hearings and informal pre-hearing conferences for simple to moderately difficult cases of complaints on alleged violations of labor laws enforced by the program; and rendering a recommended decision after hearing. This includes cases characterized by a single allegation, clear and concise statement of facts supporting the unlawful activity, issues for which precedents are available, and more difficult cases where the evidence may not be clearly stated. Work is performed under general supervision of a higher level hearings specialist.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATION REQUIREMENTS

Applicants must meet all the requirements for the position they are seeking as of the date of the application, unless otherwise specified. Please note that unless specifically indicated, the required education and experience may not be gained concurrently.

Your possession of the required amount of experience will not in itself be accepted as proof of qualification for the position. Overall paid or unpaid experience must be of such scope and responsibility as to conclusively demonstrate that you have the ability to perform the duties of the position. Note: Your calculation of experience must be based on full-time, 40-hour work weeks. Part-time experience must be pro-rated. Example: Twelve (12) months of experience at 20 hours/week is equivalent to six (6) months of experience, not one (1) year. Also, hours worked in excess of 40 hours/week will not be credited. Example: Twelve (12) months of experience at 60 hours/week is equivalent to one (1) year of experience, not one and a half (1 ½) years.

To qualify, you must meet all of the following requirements:

BASIC EDUCATION REQUIREMENT:

Graduation from an accredited four (4) year college or university.

Excess work experience as described under the Experience Requirements below or any other responsible administrative, professional or analytical work experience that provided knowledge, skills and abilities comparable to those acquired in four (4) years of successful study while completing a college or university curriculum leading to a baccalaureate degree may be substituted on a year-for-year basis. To be acceptable, the experience must have been of such scope, level and quality as to assure the possession of comparable knowledge, skills and abilities.

The education or experience background must also demonstrate the ability to write clear and comprehensive reports and other documents; read and interpret complex written material; and solve complex problems logically and systematically.

SPECIALIZED EXPERIENCE REQUIREMENT:

Three and one-half (3 ½) years for level V, two and one-half (2 ½) years for level IV of progressively responsible professional work experience which involved the application of labor laws and rules as a primary function, in performing investigations, and/or enforcing and promoting compliance with state laws and rules pertaining to wage and hour; wages and hours of employees on public works; payment of wages and other compensation; family leave; and child labor.

Supervisory Aptitude: Applicants for positions at the Labor Law Enforcement Specialist IV and V levels that supervise others require supervisory aptitude. Supervisory aptitude is the demonstration of aptitude or potential for the performance of supervisory duties through successful completion of regular or special assignments which involve some supervisory responsibilities or aspects of supervision, e.g., by serving as a group or team leader; or in similar work in which opportunities for demonstrating supervisory capabilities exist; or by the completion of training courses in supervision accompanied by application of supervisory skills in work assignments; and/or by favorable appraisals by a supervisor indicating the possession of supervisory potential.
