

Branding & Outreach Recommendations

Presented to Workforce Development Council & Executive Committee March 6 and 7, 2019

What We Have Found

Awareness and utilization of American Job Center is low among businesses. Businesses are facing workforce challenges including recruiting qualified employees and training employees for their industry. Businesses express hesitation to use government services but are curious about what American Job Center can provide.

Only 33% of survey respondents statewide said they had heard of the American Job Center.

58% of survey respondents said that keeping/finding qualified employees is the most difficult challenge that their company faces regarding workforce.

64% of survey respondents were Very Likely to Somewhat Likely if they were advised that job candidates referred by the American Job Center have been trained in the skills needed for their industry.

Statewide Survey of Employers Completed

Sample size: 352 businesses

Oʻahu: 201

Maui: 50

Kauaʻi: 51

Hawaiʻi: 50

Margin of error: +/-5.2%

Methodology: Telephone

Data collection: Oct. 10-23, 2018

53% were small businesses with 10 or fewer employees

Top industries represented:

Service industry (47.5%)

Retail industry (23.2%)

Finance, insurance and real estate (8.1%)

Mahalo also to:

Alison Lum, Executive Director of the Oʻahu Workforce Development Board; Neil Gyotoku, Executive Director of the Hawaiʻi Workforce Development Board; and Frederick Pascua of the American Job Center Hawaii on Oʻahu for providing information about current employer engagement activities.

Make Success Even More Consistent

"Mark Gray reached out to us personally."

"I think somebody came and had a candidate for us and it worked out great."

"They are a good resource. (We) had a good relationship with them. They provided us with workers."

"I want to communicate with them more information on how to benefit my company."

"Keep up the good work!"

"We are really happy with the services that American Job Center has provided for us."

"We learned that if we align ourselves with the American Job Center and we're getting people jobs, that's really, really good for our business."

Focus on the Customer Experience

"You can't run a program on one or two success stories."

"Posting and praying doesn't work anymore."

"We gave (Oʻahu WorkLinks) a chance. We did a job fair. The quality of candidates was an issue."

"The biggest challenge is life skills. Will they show up for work? There's a reason why these job-seekers need the services of the American Job Center Hawaii."

"I referred people to O'ahu WorkLinks because I felt I was in a position to help fulfill their purpose. But after the initial calls, there wasn't follow-up."

Equip Staff with Training and Resources

"Because of funding cuts, the numbers (of Business Engagement team) got cut. We don't currently have a Business Engagement team that focuses primarily on business services."

"I've spoken to Chambers, Rotaries and associations about who we are. When outreaching to businesses, we ask, 'How can we meet your needs?"

What We Have Learned

We don't need to be everything to everyone.

Employers are willing to give the American Job Center Hawaii a try.

Collaboration and partnerships are the keys to success.
